The State Office for Social Affairs in Saarbrücken is the contact point for many citizens and helps them in various social matters such as, for example, the integration of people in need of help into the labour market or of children into kindergartens. They place great emphasis on “helping people to help themselves” and advise people with disabilities such as blindness, on applications for the severely disabled pass and much more.

Main entrance of the State Office for Social Affairs

Location

It is located in Saarbrücken's "Malstatt-Burbach" district and is very easy to reach by car due to its location. There are sufficient parking spaces behind the building and the bus stop, which is located directly in front of the building's entrance, ensures a good connection to public transport. In addition, shops for daily needs are located in the immediate vicinity.

Accessibility

The building is barrier-free. You are leading the way as a role model for accessibility. Of course, this is also due to the fact that the State Office for Social Affairs has established accessibility as a core issue and people with disabilities need to be able to get into the building easily.

Barrier-free entrance.
